

Gilbert Advocates Changes in German Reparations Pact

Annual Report of U. S.
Dawes Plan Chief
Favors Giving Berlin a Definite Task.

WOULD FIX DEBT
OF FORMER FOES

Hints Time Is Nearing
When Final "Comprehensive Agreement Will Be Possible."

Berlin, December 16.—(United News.)—The turning point of the entire German reparations problem
is foreshadowed by the report of S.
Parker Gilbert, American reparations general, covering the third year of the operation of the Dawes plan.

The report, made public tonight,
presages for the first time two vital events: Fixing of Germany's total indebtedness to her former enemies which the Dawes plan left open, and suggesting the possibility of far-reaching revision of the plan whereby
"Germany would be given a definite task to perform under her own responsibility without foreign supervision and without the transfer of protection."

Gilbert's report declares that "uncertainty regarding the total amount of reparations, liabilities inevitably tends everywhere in Germany to diminish the normal incentive to do things and to accomplish reforms clearly in the country's own interest."

Hints at New Agreement.
Without naming the inter-allied debts, Gilbert hints that the time will come soon when a final comprehensive agreement concerning the questions of reparations and "connected questions" will be possible.

He recalls that the creators of the

ENTOMOLOGY ROW RULING IS ISSUED

Napier Says That a Majority of the Members
Can Direct Policies of Board.

Attorney General George M. Napier Friday issued a ruling covering the authority of a majority of the members of the state board of entomology to direct the policy or business of that department stating that the majority members of the board
"would control" except where specific provisions are made otherwise by law.
The ruling was made at the request of Sam J. White, who sought information as to the legal method to be followed in drawing state funds from two Atlanta banks and turning them into the treasury, such funds being deposited to the credit of the state board of entomology.

The attorney general pointed out that the statute which requires the approval of the commissioner of agriculture on requisitions made to the governor would have to be followed by the board before the governor could issue such warrants.

"If the board controls money in the bank it would seem that this money
may be checked out upon the action of the majority members of the board," Attorney General Napier declared.

The ruling came as a result of a controversy which developed recently between Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, on the one hand,
and Dr. Lyman Veeder and J. P.
Hogg, associate members of the board,

Calles' Flight With Lindbergh Again Delayed

Air Ace Postpones Hop
When Plane Fails to Arrive—May Attend Bull Fight.

Mexico City, December 16.—
(P.)—Prospective airplane flights of President Calles and former President Obregon tomorrow morning with Colonel Charles A.
Lindbergh were postponed tonight
until next week because the machine the American pilot expected to use had not arrived.

Mexico City, December 16.—
(United News.)—Having decided he would fly after the Christmas holidays, to at least four Central American countries in the interests of aviation and good will, Colonel Charles
A. Lindbergh today turned to some of the pleasures which Mexico holds for him.

He received numerous telegrams
urging him not to attend the bull
fights which will be held on Sunday.
Lindbergh said, however, that he is entirely free to decide whether he shall attend. Ambassador Dwight W.
Morrow, who has taken a paternal interest in him just as Ambassador Myron T. Herrick did in Paris, agreed that the decision is up to "Slim"
alone, for the bull fight is not part of the official program.

Accompanied by Throgs.
"It is not the province of anyone in the United States to criticize the customs of another country," the "good will diplomat" said in an interview after he had made a return of visits and again had received the acclaim of an enthusiastic nation.

Seven hundred American school children gave Lindbergh a shrill cheer of admiration when he visited the American school here. It was his only visit of the day, his hosts giving him
an opportunity to rest from his 2,300 to 2,400-mile non-stop flight from Washington, D. C., to Mexico City, and to prepare for the great receptions over the week-end.

Lindbergh announced definitely that he would fly in his famous Spirit
of St. Louis to Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras and Panama. Undoubtedly he will fly to Havana also,
and from there make a return flight
to St. Louis.

Lindbergh went up in the air today
in a Morane monoplane, his first flight since landing at Valbuena field at the end of his journey from Washington.

He took up as passengers General Jose Alvarez, chief of the presidential staff; General Ramon Limon, with Rogers and Major Castaneda, a Mexican aviator.

May Attend Bull Fight.
Discussing the possibility of pan-American air development, the goodwill ambassador said that "in the present stage of development, aircraft communication between the United States, Mexico, Central and South America, is entirely feasible. We have not yet developed to the point where regular trans-oceanic lines are practicable but airlines to Mexico and Central America are practicable."

"Yes, I will attend if it does not interfere with the official program,"
he said. He saw a bull fight in Laredo, Texas, in 1914. "Mexico is perfectly capable of selecting its own sports,"
he said, in answer to the many telegrams urging him not to attend.

Lindbergh disclosed that in his capital-to-capital flight, he ate three roast beef sandwiches, nothing more.

WITH SON IN MEXICO.
Detroit, December 16.—(P.)—Mrs.
Evangeline L. Lindbergh, mother of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, announced tonight that she had accepted an invitation to spend the Christmas holidays at Mexico City with the guest of the republic with her son.

'BRIBE' PAPER TO BE PROBED BY EXPERTS

Detectives and Spanish Authorities Will Be Employed on Hearst Documents by Committee.

CLAIM OF FORGERY
TO BE INVESTIGATED

Testimony So Conflicting
and Charges So Grave, Committee Decides on Full Airing of Matter.

Washington, December 16.—(United News.)—Detectives are to be employed by the special senate investigating committee to determine whether the Hearst Mexican documents are genuine.

Testimony regarding the documents
is so conflicting and such grave international matters are at stake that the committee decided today it should go to the bottom in endeavoring to ascertain whether Mexico actually has been intrigued against the United States or whether the documents are forgeries, as some claim.

Spanish experts are to be asked to study the documents to ascertain whether there are grammatical errors or other irregularities which might throw some light on the genuineness of the papers.

Will Get Envoys' Messages.
Telegraph and cable companies, subpoenaed yesterday, promising to have a list of messages sent and received by Mexican Consul General Elias, in New York.

After a brief session tomorrow the committee will await the result of its secret investigations before proceeding further. Members of the committee are unwilling to come to positive conclusions until they have the benefit of collateral evidence.

George Hissman, a former Mexico City Hearst correspondent, testified he had heard from Avila that documents could be obtained. He did not

MAGNIDER HERE ON FLYING VISIT

Assistant War Secretary,
on Way to Washington,
Renews Acquaintance
With Col. Danforth.

Hanford MacNider, assistant secretary of war, Friday afternoon renewed the acquaintance of the man who lutated him into the army at the beginning of the war when he arrived at Camp Dodge, Iowa, and was met by Colonel Charles Danforth, air officer for the fourth corps army area.

It was in Fort Dodge, Iowa, during the early days of the war that Colonel Danforth, then a recruiting officer, signed up Mr. MacNider as a private in Uncle Sam's army. Since that time Mr. MacNider rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel at the close of the war and assistant secretary of war
during the past two years. Colonel Danforth is stationed in Atlanta.

Mr. MacNider, accompanied by Captain R. G. Ervin, his aide and pilot, arrived at Camp Dodge field at 3:45 o'clock Friday afternoon after a cold trip from Shreveport, La., in the Spirit of Ureth, III, the assistant secretary's special plane. The plane will leave this morning for Washington, D. C. Secretary MacNider is returning to his headquarters from an inspection of army posts in Texas.

"So this is the sunny south," Mr.
MacNider ejaculated Friday afternoon as he emerged from the plane.
The sun was shining, but the temperature was near to freezing, cold winds striking to the very marrow of the bones in spite of heavy clothing.

Mr. MacNider said his pilot complained of a very cold air voyage despite their wool-lined overcoats and fur-lined boots. The pair of aviators resembled Arctic explorers in their heavy garments.

Mr. MacNider was met at Camp
Dodge by a delegation including Honorable Hallman, governor for Georgia
of the National Aeronautical associa-

DEMOCRATS VOTE NOT TO INSTRUCT ALABAMA UNIT

Montgomery, Ala., December 16.— (P.)—Alabama democrats will vote by district on delegates to the next democratic convention and the delegation will go uninstructed and untrans-acted as a result of the action of the state democratic executive committee
Friday afternoon at its session here.

By a vote of 20 to 12, the committee voted down a resolution introduced by John H. Weakley, which would have made it the sense of the committee that the Alabama delegation vote as a unit on the nomination of a candidate for president of the United States.

Freezing Winds Bring Suffering to Families

BY BILL SHIPPEN.
King Winter reigns Atlanta today.
Christmas weather has come to the city on the wings of the north wind.

And that same gale which sets your cheeks to tingling is striking icy daggers into the hearts of the weak and unprotected.
Bitter cold has invaded the homes of the city's ten neediest families. They stand in dire need of your protection, these ten defenseless widows and fifty little children of the very poor.

Send a check to The Constitution. Make it payable to the "Ten Opportunities Fund." Be assured it will do double duty
in providing a permanent Christmas for the city's ten worst
and ten neediest families.
FREEZE COMING TO ADD TO SUFFERING.

While forecasts were heralding
a precipitous drop in local temperatures, The Constitution received many bids on six automobiles to be sold in behalf of the poor, as well as $237.50 in subscriptions and pledges in Friday's mail.

A prominent Atlanta woman,
who asked that she remain anonymous, has pledged $15 a month
to "Opportunity" No. 5, and G.
C. Daniel, Atlanta dairyman, announced he will have a quart of milk delivered daily during 1928
to the door of Family No. 2. Mr.
Daniel, whose milk is endorsed by the city's leading doctors, is also giving to an orphan's home here.

Brisk bidding all day Friday
marked the automobile sale.
These six used cars, all of which were contributed to the "Opportunities" fund by D. C. Black, Black dealer here, are now on display at the Black company, 326 Peachtree street.

YOUR AUTO BID
IS WANTED NOW!
Go in, and look them over. A salesman will show you around.
Then mail or bring your bid to The Constitution, specifying the number of the car you want. The highest bids will be published daily until the "Opportunities"
appeal closes Tuesday.

These cars will then be knocked down to the highest bidders,
and every cent from the sale will go directly to the city's ten neediest families.

Bear this in mind when bidding, and make the amount generous, for not only are the cars
first class in every way, but the cause is one every man should be proud to help.

Every one of these families is mothered by a capable woman who, through some physical infirmity, is unable to take a man's place as the wage earner.

Only a few months ago the Atlanta Family Welfare society found them in the street. Now they have a roof above their heads. But the $5 a week Atlanta so far has been able to provide them through the Community Chest can't pay for shelter, clothing and still be stretched far enough for food.

THESE FAMILIES ARE HUN-GRY.
All their clothes are but remnants, all too thin for Atlanta's wintry winds, sleet and rain.
Their homes are unheated.
Their blankets are few and inadequate. They need real charity.
NOT SCRAP.
With Atlanta, learn of these cases as its people prepare for a gay Christmas? Will these citizens who are proud of Atlanta,
who plan big dinners, expensive gifts, and joyful celebrations for bright-eyed happy children, let these families "WASTE AWAY," STARVE, FREEZE AND DIE?

IS YOUR AUTO
BID LISTED HERE?
Friday's mail contained the following subscriptions:

$ 3.00...Mrs. B. D. Garner
25.00...Mrs. Harold Montag
3.00...Anonymous
1.00...Carl F. Hutcherson
3.00...Miss Laura Arnold
5.00...Mrs. Geo. W. McCarty
1.00...Kurt Mueller
2.50...M. Stokes
5.00...May West
5.00...Mary Blair Taylor
Several score bids on the six used cars sent to The Constitution Friday, the following were the highest:

No. 1—Bulck 6; $35 by H.
N. Mann, 359 Boulevard, S. E.
No. 2—Overland 4, Red Bird;
$45 by A. H. Jackson, 556 Ashby street, N. W.

No. 3—Essex 4 coach; $50 by E. M. Pickle, and a like amount by Mr. Mann.
No. 4—Ford touring; $22 by
P. C. Benson, 614 Powder Springs street, Marietta, Ga.

No. 5—Apperson 8, 7-passenger sedan; $40 by W. M. Digby.
No. 6—Hudson sedan; $15 by Mr. Pickle.

These cars are all in first-class running shape. They will be sold at a bargain. Go in and look them over—then send or bring in your bid.

And remember that every cent
of your outlay should go to one of the cars, will do double duty with the "Ten Opportunities" families—the city's neediest charity cases.

Lynchburg, Va., December 16.—(P.) Thrown from the cockpit of an airplane in which he was a passenger when the machine was caught in a cyclonic air pocket over the mountains of Nelson county, Phineas Stephens, chairman of the Shenandoah Valley, Inc. airport committee, today plunged more than 1,000 feet to his death, while Richard Fellers, of Baltimore, another passenger, miraculously escaped a similar fate.

In describing the accident here tonight, Captain C. A. Mason, pilot of the plane, said the ship was caught in the cyclonic air center near Eorks
of Buffalo, made a sudden descent of 1,000 feet, unseating his two passengers and throwing Stephens clear of the machine, while Fellers' head struck the top wing and he was able to grasp a strut and cling on.

Stephens shot to the ground, but Fellers slowly worked himself back to the cockpit. Mason finally righted
the plane after falling about 1,000 feet. The plane proceeded to Oakridge where a landing was made.

Stephens' body was found in the mountains near Forks of Buffalo.
Another plane, piloted by Major William D. Tipton, accompanied by three passengers, was flying near the Mason ship when the accident occurred, but did not strike the pocket.
The planes were making a tour of the Shenandoah valley.

MORAL CHARGE VOTED AGAINST GOV. JOHNSTON

Executive's Secretary Named by House Committee in "Turpitude" Allegation.

ACTION CLIMAXES
SECRET HEARING

Accusation Will Be Brought Before State Representatives Next Week.

Oklahoma City, Okla., December 16.—(P.)—A charge of moral turpitude against Governor Henry S.
Johnston was unanimously reported tonight by the house committee investigating his administration with a view to his impeachment.

Announcement of this action was made by Chairman H. Tom Knight of the committee after an executive session. The committee, which already had voted six impeachment bills against the governor, heard several witnesses at an open hearing today
and some gave testimony concerning the personal conduct of the executive since he was elected to office.

Among other things the governor has been charged with general incompetency. The senate, a self-declared court of impeachment, has accepted these charges for trial.

Name Governor's Secretary.
Allegations were made at today's hearing that Mrs. O. O. Hammonds,
the governor's confidential secretary,
exercised an influence over the governor's office in the matter of making appointments and determining what persons he would receive in conference.

The self-convened session of the house of representatives will be called together next week to consider the report of the investigating committee.

COLUMBUS WOMAN SLAIN BY HUSBAND

Man Visits Wife and Slashes Throat With Pocket Knife; Admits
Attack in Jail.

Columbus, Ga., December 16.—(P.)
D. B. Brookings, 42, this afternoon killed his wife, Susie Brookings, 42,
when she was alone in a small store, operated by Mrs. Brookings, in the North Highlands section of the city.

Arrested by city policemen and lodged in the city jail, Brookings freely announcing the committee's action, merely declaring: "The committee has just met in executive session and voted charges of moral turpitude against the governor."

According to his account of the attack, he visited the store run by his wife to purchase a soft drink. He saw her alone in the store, and he expressed satisfaction. His only regret, he said, was that he had not burned down the store after cutting his wife's throat, in order that her mother might not get any of the property.

The Brookings, according to reports, had been married nine years
and had been estranged at frequent intervals. Brookings had not been living with his wife for six weeks prior to the slaying.

There was no one else in the store
at the time of the killing but several persons claim to have seen the actual killing through a window. None could relate any of the conversation that preceded the attack on Mrs. Brookings, but they told policemen how Brookings slashed the woman's throat twice with a pocket knife. Her throat was cut from ear to ear, the jugular veins completely severed and death was almost instantaneous.

COOLIDGE MUST
HEED PARTY'S WISH,
G. O. P. CHIEF SAYS

Syracuse, N. Y., December 16.—(P.) President Coolidge, despite his statement that he does not care to run for the office of chief executive again in 1928, must heed the wish of the republican national convention if that body "chooses that he shall run," Charles D. Hilles, vice chairman of the republican national committee,
and national committeeman from New York state, told 700 leaders and adherents of the party at a dinner
here tonight.

Reversing his previous attitude towards the president's pronouncement, Hilles declared that while he did not doubt for a moment Coolidge's candor or sincerity, he was convinced that "a great many of the legion of his admirers will continue to hope for his nomination."

President Holds Treasury Cannot Stand Tax Slash

REMUS CHUCKLES
AT MENTAL TESTS
GIVEN BY WOMAN

Jurors Overwhelmed
With Laughter as Alien-ist Explains Examination.

Cincinnati, Ohio, December 16.—
The mind of George Remus, master of an enormous bootleg business, was under the legal microscope at his murder trial today.

Alienists came to the witness stand and testified Remus not only was sane on October 6, when he shot and killed his wife, but he was sane now and always has been sane.

It was the first time through five weeks of the trial that the closely-guarded jurors have heard a professional view of Remus' mentality.

Despite his plea of transitory, malignant insanity, the defendant seemed more proud than when the doctors said he thought clearly and forcefully.

Defendant Shows Amusement.
Remus was as amused as the rest of the courtroom crowd when Dr. Mabel Fernald, psychologist, who performed certain psychometric tests at the request of the alienists, told about her examination into the mind of Remus.

He was not very pleased when she said his intelligence barely was that of an average adult, but he chuckled
and winked happily as in cross-examination Dr. Fernald explained some of the tests by which she had arrived at that opinion.

Charles H. Elston, counsel for defense, asked the question that somehow managed to make the trial a hysterical kindergarten lesson. Spectators were giggling and at least two of the jurors were overcome with laughter.

Elston asked the witness if she hadn't asked Remus to draw some pictures. In remembrance the defendant rocked with mirth.

"Yes," said Dr. Fernald, a rather mousy little woman, who didn't seem to care whether she was made fun of or not. She described how Remus had been asked to draw a Greek key
and an inverted box for ten seconds,
and then had been asked to reproduce them. He failed in that test, she said.

Given Paper-Cutting Test.
He was below average on a paper-cutting test, she said. A paper was folded twice and cut and the subject was asked to draw on another piece of paper the spots where the holes
would be on the original. Remus not only didn't have the right number of holes, but misplaced them.

There also was a word test. He was average in knowing the meanings of such words as juggler, regard, misuse, treasury, disproportionate and dungeon, the alienist explained.

Then came a test of the defendant's abilities, and Remus recognized there was a fall in the sentence, "I have a home that is on a road downhill all the way to town and downhill all the way back."

By this time many of the spectators were busy folding and cutting paper.

Improvements Are Planned in Georgia and Alabama as Part of $10,000-000 Program.

Cincinnati, Ohio, December 16.— (Special.)—Official announcement was made here today by the Louisville & Nashville railway system
officials that more than $10,000,000
had been placed in a fund to provide for improvements at various points along the lines of that system
and for purchase of rolling stock, particularly passenger coaches and freight cars.

About half of the $10,000,000 fund
will be used for the purchase of better rolling stock, including 2,250 improved freight cars of various types and 10 standard passenger coaches.

Considerable new bridge construction is planned for the Atlanta and Montgomery divisions while all bridges in Georgia and Alabama will be strengthened to comply with the recommendations of the railroad corporation's engineers.

These expenditures in Georgia and Alabama will total $1,250,000.
Additional work in the South Louisville railroad yards will cost $131,000 and $28,000 will be spent for the purchase of new track which will be placed on the Atlanta, Ga., division via Knoxville, Tenn., and on the Montgomery division and also the Birmingham, Ala., division. Sixty-one thousand tons of the standard track will be laid in Georgia and Alabama.

points in the system during 1928 will

Considers $290,000,000
Cut in House Excessive in View of Huge Expenditures Next Year.

NO DEFINITE SIGN
OF VETO IS GIVEN

Republican Leaders in Senate Doubtful of Ability to Reduce Size of Cut.

Washington, December 16.—(P.)—
The $290,000,000 tax reduction proposed by the revenue bill, as it was passed by the house last night, is more, in President Coolidge's opinion,
than the condition of the treasury
warrants.

No doubt was left at the white house today that the president considers the reduction—roughly $65-000,000 in excess of the total recommended by the treasury—would be excessive, although there was no definite indication given that Mr. Coolidge would veto the bill as predicted
in some quarters if its total is not pared down.

On the president's behalf it was reiterated that much depends on business conditions when tax reduction is considered and that while he believes a boom possible next year, which would enable the treasury to withstand such a cut as the house favors, he does not think such a condition
probable.

Heavy Expenditures.
It also was pointed out again that there will be extraordinary expenditures in the coming year, such as those for flood control, which will be a considerable drain on the treasury.

The $290,000,000 tax reduction bill, the smallest passed by the house since the war, awaited a zealous reception today by the senate.

Before the measure could be formally received, the senate being in recess for the day, Senator Siammons, of North Carolina, the ranking democrat on the finance committee, which will take up the legislation, reiterated his declaration that "a $400,000,000
slash is safe and possible."

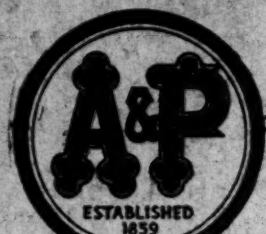

Predictions Looking.
While republican leaders were prepared to attempt to hold the total cut within range of the administration limit of $225,000,000, they were making no predictions of success in view of the temper displayed by members of congress since the session began.

The finance committee probably will defer consideration of the bill which requires house approval until night until after the Christmas holidays, but it plans no extensive hearings. Secretary Mellon and other officials of the treasury will be invited
in for testimony displayed by members of the senate as to where the cuts should be made.

Aroused by the action of the house
in giving the bill to the senate, it had been set by republican leaders
there, Chairman Madden, of the house appropriations committee, gave notice
today that he had endeavored to close their chance of making any argument with "me" for appropriations.
Madden, who was one of the 24 representatives to vote against the bill, had added that he had endeavored to keep some money in the federal treasury to meet the demands that will be made upon it during this session of congress.

Although Chairman Smoot, of the senate finance committee, is anxious

SEIZED IN RAID

City Detectives Allen and Head Thursday night raided an apartment

on West Peachtree street, curtailing Christmas run running activities. The detectives entered the home by means of a pass key, seized themselves on a divan in the living room and waited in the dark for occupants of the house to enter. A man who said he was W. B. Young, of 387 Boulevard, N. E., was the only one to enter. He was arrested on a charge of violation of the prohibition laws.

The haul included 18 quarts of gin, five quarts of wine, 14 quarts of whiskey and one quart of corn liquor. A quantity of labels, mostly foreign, also was seized.

There are no wolves in Africa, though jackals in Abyssinia and the Sudan are sometimes known as wolves.

STONE MOUNTAIN SANITARIUM SOLD
TO DR. GARDNER

Dr. W. A. Gardner, Atlanta nerve specialist, has acquired controlling interest in the Stone Mountain sanitarium, formerly known as the Dr.

Cheston King sanitarium, it was announced Friday. The consideration was not made public, but it was estimated to exceed $15,000. Dr. Gardner has operated the Southeastern sanitarium at 418 Capitol avenue for several years. All of his patients in this sanitarium have been moved to the Stone Mountain institution. The Stone Mountain sanitarium is a three-story brick structure, located on a three-acre tract of land almost in front of the Stone Mountain Confederate memorial. Dr. Gardner is a member of the local medical societies, and for several years was in charge of the government hospital No. 48 on Peachtree road. He served after the war as chief of the mental and nervous sections of the fifth district United States public health service.

WOMAN IS NOW MOTHER

Greensburg, Pa., December 16.—(United News.)—A second set of triplets has been born to Mrs. Michael Garrity, of Brownstown, Pa. The first set comprised three boys, and the second, girls.

North Boulevard
League Approves
Peachtree Park

Adoption of a resolution asking city council to accept the offer of Eugene V. Haynes to deed 26 acres of land adjacent to the 110-acre tract now owned by the city at the Peachtree creek disposal plant for park purposes featured the monthly meeting of the North Boulevard Civic league Friday night.

R. E. Lee Reynolds was elected president for 1938. Other officers are: Judge E. D. Thomas, vice president; R. G. Carithers, secretary; James Swann, assistant secretary, and Milo Price, treasurer.

Mr. Haynes' offer to contribute the strip was contingent on its utilization for park purposes not later than January 1, 1938, and the removal of the Peachtree disposal plant. The proposed new park will extend from Peachtree road on both sides of Peachtree creek to the Chattahoochee river. Acceptance of the offer is expected to be the signal for other property owners in that vicinity to make similar offers.

The Civic league Friday night also adopted a resolution to ask city council to enlarge the golf course at Piedmont park, making it an 18-hole course.

GIRL CHOKES SNAKE, SAVING LIFE OF MAN

Muncie, Ind., December 16.—(United News.)—Heroism of Grace Hartley, 24, who clutched at the throat of a 25-foot python with her bare hands, today saved the life of "Mad Coo," Fleming, carnival owner, who was attacked by the snake.

EXPECTED THRILL IS URGING BYRD
ON SOUTH POLE HOP

Washington, December 16.—(United News.)—The expected thrill of looking over an area one and one-half times the size of the United States never viewed by a human being is spurring on Commander Richard E. Byrd in his plans for a flight to the south pole, he told members of the National Geographic society here tonight.

Previously he called upon Secretary of the Navy Wilbur and advised him that arrangements for the polar expedition were practically completed. Byrd said that he would take three planes with him and that the white men in the party would include Floyd Bennett, Bernt Balchen and Lieutenant George O. Noville and a number of scientists.

THIEF ESCAPES AFTER HOT CHASE
ON WHITEHALL

An unidentified white man was chased for several blocks early Friday morning after he had broken a show window glass of J. P. Allen company on Whitehall street. He escaped pursuers in the railroad yards near Hunter street and Central avenue.

A policeman who heard the glass break gave chase and fired several times in the air, in a vain effort to halt the thief, who escaped with an expensive dress.

Sixteen Years
of Faithful Service
in Atlanta

Sixteen years of service in funeral directing is this month attributed T. C. Bazemore, President of the T. C. Bazemore Company. Each year he has been responsible for some marked achievements for the profession. Improvements as they were introduced to the profession were quickly acquired and the constant study of new and distinctive means of serving the public has lead to the ever advancing policy of the company's prompt and efficient service.

Today the T. C. Bazemore Company offers a modern and completely equipped funeral home. Every detail in the proper handling of a funeral may be intrusted to our care with the assurance that it will be properly taken care of.

Our convenient location, on Capitol Square at Washington street, affords every advantage. It is accessible to all street car lines and is free from auto parking ordinances round about.

T. C. Bazemore, President

Mr. Bazemore has devoted his entire time for the past sixteen years to his profession. Nothing has interfered with his careful study and efforts to give the people whom he serves the full benefit of his ability. PRISON DRUG PLOT BARED BY FORBES

Kansas City, December 16.—(AP)—Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the United States veterans' bureau, today related to a federal grand jury here his story of an alleged narcotic traffic at the Leavenworth, Kan., federal penitentiary, where he recently completed a prison term.

Forbes was before the grand jury for several hours. Upon emerging from the courtroom he said he had been sworn to secrecy and would not have a statement he had promised to newspapermen earlier in the day. A subpoena was issued for Forbes following publication of his statement that convicts at the penitentiary were obtaining narcotics. He came here to testify from Plymouth, Mass.

The colonel was quoted as saying any convict could get narcotics if he had the money, and that Warden T. B. White was handicapped by an insufficient personnel.

Forbes served 20 months of a two years' sentence in the prison for defrauding the government in the construction of veterans' hospitals.

Warden White was called before the grand jury when Colonel Forbes left the room. Forbes said last night he intends to go to Washington and seek a congressional investigation of narcotic traffic in federal prisons.

FILLING STATION MANAGER ROBBED

Victim of a daring holdup Friday afternoon, L. H. Crawford, manager of a filling station at Courtland and Harris streets, reported to police that he had lost $215 and a pistol.

Crawford told police that an unmasked youth came into the station shortly before 5 o'clock and without warning flashed a large pistol and demanded his cash.

The holdup occurred on one of the busiest automobile thoroughfares in the city about that time at night, for both Courtland and Harris streets are lined with motorists en route to their homes late in the afternoon. Call Officers M. D. Cartwright and E. E. Brackett investigated and were furnished a description of the bandit.

JEWELS VALUED AT $1,000 TAKEN IN BURGLAR RAID

Theft from her residence Friday night of jewels valued at more than $1,000 and of $6 in cash was reported to police by Mrs. Georgia Thompson, of 229 Spring street.

Two savings banks containing approximately $60 in cash were stolen from the residence of J. Shaffer, 236 Atlanta avenue, Friday night, he told police.

CHILD IS SCALDED IN FALL INTO PAN OF BOILING WATER

Accidentally falling on her head and shoulders Friday in a pan of boiling water, Montez Latham, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Latham, of 275 Sidney street, was severely scalded. After treatment at Grady hospital she was returned to her home.

Federal Dry Chiefs Frown On Offer of Gas Snoopers

Washington, December 16.—(United Press)—Enforcement of prohibition by the aid of gas meter snoopers has failed to win approval of federal officials.

Both Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman and Prohibition Commissioner Doran frowned on the practice originating in Pawtucket, R. I., by a gas company order to meter readers.

"The day of prohibition enforcement by the aid of snoopers is a thing of the past," Doran declared.

So the little wheels of the nation's gas meters can whirl merrily either for frying eggs or running stills without federal enforcement officials losing sleep over them.

"We will have none of it," Lowman said. "The recent supreme court decision would prevent us from using the information if the meter readers furnished it."

Elks Planning $20,000,000 Fund for Welfare Work

A great endowment fund, which eventually will total $20,000,000 or more, is to be founded in the immediate future by the national grand lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, it was announced Friday night by John F. Malley, of Boston, grand exalted ruler of the order. Mr. Malley was the honor guest at a dinner given at the home of the local Elks lodge, No. 78, on Peachtree street. He and Mrs. Malley arrived in Atlanta Friday afternoon and will leave today. They are making a tour of the leading lodges of the south.

The endowment fund is to be devoted to welfare work directed by the Elks in all parts of the country. Each state or district association, Mr. Malley said, will decide what form of work in service for humanity is most needed in its territory and the income from the endowment will be prorated among all associations.

Mr. Malley stated, during his talk, that the day of the importance of club life has passed, because of changing customs and conditions of life. New laws, the advent of the radio and the ever-growing desire for outdoor life, has made the old idea of a clubhouse, Elks lodges have come to the fork of the road, he said, and must choose between devotion to the highest service of the community or the selfish club idea which bring about.

Object of Elksdom.

The object of Elksdom today, the speaker said, is to redeem human minds from error and he spoke briefly of the evils of religious and racial intolerance as typical examples of wrong thinking.

Foster Brigham, of Augusta, president of the Georgia Elks association, in a brief talk, declared that Georgia

Schools and Churches Get $15,000 of Sirmons Estate

Arlington, Ga., December 16.—State educational and religious institutions share to the extent of $15,000 in the estate of the late Judge Charles W. Sirmons and his wife, according to the will just filed for probate in Early county. Judge Sirmons died at his home in this city on November 19 and his wife preceded him to the grave about five years.

Provisions are made in the will for the gift of $1,000 each to Emory university, Atlanta; Andrew College, Cuthbert; and Ashbury college, at Wilkes, Ky. To the Orphan Home of the South Georgia Methodist conference is given $2,000 to be "used for the benefit of said home as those in charge think best."

To the South Georgia conference of the Methodist church is bequeathed the sum of $2,000 to be used solely in the work of the Women's Missionary society of the conference as a donation from the Arlington auxiliary.

The Arlington Methodist church is given $1,000 to be spent as follows: $2,000 in repairing the parsonage of the church and $2,000 for repairing the church edifice and installing therein toilet and bath facilities.

The board of trustees of the Arlington school is given $6,000 to be used in the building or equipping a new school building for white children and this bequest to be made only when an equal sum is contributed by the town of Arlington within a period of 12 months after the will is probated.

Others who share in the will are: Mrs. Villa Dykes, now Mrs. John G. Daniel, Jr.; Nell Wilson Dykes, daughter of Mrs. Dykes; Mrs. Evaline Layton Daniel, wife of John G. Daniel, Sr.; of Morgan. Miss Etta Walker, Miss Bertha Walker, of Early county; daughters of Saunders Walker, cousin of Judge Sirmons; and Miss Christine Walker.

The will names Colonel R. W. Fortson, formerly of this city but now of Washington, Ga.; R. C. McNair and R. C. Ray, of Arlington, as executors, and bequeaths to them, in lieu of commissions, the sums of respectively, $1,500, $500 and $500 to be taxed against the estate as costs of administration.

PERKERSON PARK PLAN IS FAVORED

Approval by city council Monday of a proposal to purchase the 300-acre tract of the Perkerson estate for establishment of an 18-hole golf course in the southern and western sections of the city was freely predicted Friday when the parks committee of city council gave unanimous sanction to the project.

A majority of members of the finance committee also signed the paper authorizing the city to enter into a contract to purchase the strip with the county. In the event the measure passes council Monday, Fulton county commissioners will begin the golf course the early part of next year, under a verbal agreement between city officials and the county board.

Alderman Charles M. Ford, of the tenth ward, will offer a resolution calling for the purchase at the meeting Monday. The bill will bear the signatures of a majority of members of council, he said Friday.

The tract is one of the most desirable in that section of Fulton county for park purposes, proponents of the park declare. Plans call for location of swimming pools, fishing lakes, the golf course, baseball diamonds, tennis courts and other recreational facilities in the newly acquired park space.

EDUCATORS INVITE HERBERT HOOVER

Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce and one of the best known men in American public life, has been invited to attend the sessions of the Georgia Educational association to be held in Atlanta April 12 and 13, 1928.

Dr. Dugan, state superintendent of schools, said: "We want Mr. Hoover to come to this meeting because it will be the largest meeting of educational workers ever held in the state. Dr. Dugan said: 'We will have more than 10,000 teachers present at the session.' It is expected that the invitation of Dr. Dugan will be supplemented with invitations extended by United States Senators William J. Harris and Walter F. George and other members of the Georgia delegation in congress and also several close personal friends of Mr. Hoover who live in Georgia."

Mr. Wells, superintendent of schools of Fulton county, president of the Georgia Educational association.

GEORGE W. ALLEN, SR., TO BE BURIED SUNDAY

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Woodward Avenue Baptist church for George W. Allen, Sr., pioneer retired Confederate veteran and retired contractor, who died suddenly at his home, 308 Woodland avenue, S. E., on Thursday.

Mr. Allen, who was in his 90th year, had been in good health and the end came suddenly as he was seated in a chair in his home.

Mr. Allen came to Atlanta from Alabama 50 years ago. He was prominently identified with the city's growth and an active factor in its business and civic affairs up to the time of his retirement 20 years ago. He was a leading member of the Woodward Avenue Baptist church and took a prominent part in church activities up to the time of his death.

The Rev. T. T. Davis will officiate at the funeral and interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mr. Allen is survived by his widow, nine sons and one daughter, all of whom are well known in Atlanta. They are Fred Lee, of Knoxville; G. W. Jr., Claude, Roy, Abner, J. W., Clarence E., C. G. and J. B., all of Atlanta. His daughter is Mrs. William A. Sims. He is also survived by 75 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

HUSBAND SOBS PLEA IN BETTY'S DEFENSE

LaGrange, Texas, December 16.—(AP)—The fate of Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers, 23-year-old former coed charged with bank robbery, was placed with a jury in district court tonight.

LaGrange, Texas, December 16.—(AP)—Dramatically defending his 23-year-old wife of charges of bank robbery, Otis Rogers, youthful Texas attorney, today implored the jury at the trial of Rebecca Bradley Rogers to "send her to the electric chair" rather than to prison.

A solemn hush fell upon the packed courtroom as Rogers took up the final arguments in defense of the former college student, who is charged with holding up officials of the Farmers National bank, of Buda, at the point of a revolver, and escaping with $1,000. With tears in his eyes, Rogers asked the jury not to send her to the penitentiary to mix "with hardened criminals."

H. Y. STRIBBLING, GUNSHOT VICTIM, BURIED IN ROSWELL

Funeral services for Hugh Y. Stribbling, 34, proprietor of Stribbling's Drug store at Roswell, Ga., who died at a local hospital late Thursday afternoon from gunshot wounds in his head, suffered Thursday morning, were held Friday afternoon from the Roswell Methodist church. The Rev. C. L. Middlebrooks officiated and interment was in Roswell cemetery.

Mr. Stribbling's body was found in the basement of his store with a pistol by his side. He was rushed to a private hospital and lived until late in the afternoon, when he succumbed. The pistol was later identified by Chief of Police John Hood, of Roswell, as the one belonging to Mr. Stribbling.

He was a prominent business man for many years and during the world war served with the One Hundred and Twenty-second infantry. He was a Mason and a member of the Methodist church.

Mr. Stribbling is survived by his wife, a son, Hugh Stribbling, Jr.; a daughter, Elizabeth Stribbling; his mother, Mrs. S. Y. Stribbling, Sr.; three sisters, Mrs. J. Foster, of Roswell; Mrs. A. Mott and Mrs. E. H. Wood, Jr., of Atlanta, and five brothers, T. S. Stribbling, of Seneca, S. C.; J. H. Stribbling, of Franklin, N. C.; T. E. Stribbling, and S. Y. Stribbling, Jr., of Habersham, Ga., and P. O. Stribbling, of Atlanta.

Edmund W. Martin, Attorney, Civic Leader and Churchman, Will Be Laid To Rest Today

Prominent Atlantans To Take Part in Funeral Services at Trinity Methodist Church.

Funeral services for Edmund W. Martin, 73, veteran Atlanta attorney, churchman and civic leader, who died suddenly Thursday night from a heart attack, will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Trinity Methodist church. The Rev. Wallace Rogers, pastor of the church, and the Rev. S. R. Bell, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, will officiate and interment will be in West View cemetery.

Tallenters at the services will be former Governor John M. Slaton, George S. Lowndes, Sr., Dr. J. L. Campbell, W. C. Mansfield, A. L. Valdo, John A. Magnet, Will L. Hancock, F. A. Quillian and A. J. Shropshire.

Members of the board of stewards of the Trinity church, members of the Old Guard and the Atlanta chapter of the Kappa Alpha fraternity will form an honorary escort.

Members of the Atlanta Lawyers' club who have been appointed to serve as an honorary escort are Robert C. Alston, Lowry Arnold, John A. Boykin, Judge Sheppard Bryan, Frank Kuntz, James L. Mayson, Eugene Mitchell, Walter McCreath, Jack J. Spalding, John L. Tye, Sr., James T. Wright and W. D. Thompson.

Judges of the Atlanta superior courts Friday announced that a mark of respect.

John W. Martin, governor of Florida and nephew of Edmund W. Martin, will arrive in Atlanta at 8:30 o'clock this morning to attend the funeral. While in the city Governor Martin will stop with H. Warner Martin at 1327 Peachtree street.

50 Years of Service.

For almost half a century, Mr. Martin had taken an active interest in various civic and church activities throughout the city. He had been for many years a devoted member of the Trinity church and for more than 30 years had conducted a Sunday school class. At the time of his death he was a member of the board of trustees and lay leader of the church. One of his last activities at the church was to lead a laymen's meeting Wednesday night as chairman.

No member of the Atlanta bar was better known or more highly esteemed than Edmund W. Martin, who for 47 years practiced continuously in this city, successfully handling much important litigation during this period. His achievements in the field of public service won him statewide prominence, while he has also been an influential factor in religious affairs. He was of fine old Georgia and South Carolina stock. John Wellborn Martin, the present governor of Florida, is a nephew of his, and the middle son of what is now known as Hampton county, South Carolina, and served with distinction throughout the civil war and as a member of the Confederate congress. William Elizabeth (Wellborn) Martin, the mother of Edmund W. Martin, was a daughter of Colonel Alfred Wellborn, in his day one of the largest planters of Meriwether county, South Carolina.

Born in 1854, Edmund W. Martin was born July 23, 1854, on his grandfather's plantation adjoining Warm Springs, in Meriwether county, Georgia. He received his education in an academy at Ocala, Fla., and also attended school at Micanopy, that state. He completed a course at Wofford college at Spartanburg, S. C., graduating with first honors following his graduation, and about two years, he was a teacher in the Masonic institute at Greenville, Ga. In 1877 he came to Atlanta and commenced his law studies, being admitted to the bar in 1878.

Mr. Martin was a staunch democrat and a strong champion of progressive measures. During 1887-88 he was one of the police commissioners of Atlanta and from 1890 until 1893 was a member of the general assembly, serving on a number of important committees. In 1907 he was elected councilman from the second ward and died much for the building of the public auditorium and the Washington street viaduct. He was a member of the joint commission of the chamber of commerce and the city of Atlanta which appeared before a committee of the Grand Army of the Republic during the reunion at Minneapolis, and, as spokesman, secured the indorsement of that body to the proposed construction of the battle-grounds around Atlanta into a national park.

Married in 1879, Mr. Martin was married April 16, 1879, to Miss Sallie Hill, a daughter of Alexander F. Hill, of Greenville, Ga. Her grandfather, Hiram Warner, was for many years chief justice of Georgia and her brother, H. Warner Hill, is the present associate justice.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin became the parents of three children: Mrs. Willie (Martin) Hurt, of Atlanta, who has three children; Edmund Woodruff, Sarah Bright and Joel; third, H. Warner Martin, vice president of the Georgia National bank of this city; Frank H. Martin, a major in the twenty-fourth United States infantry during the world war and now connected with business interests of Atlanta. Mrs. Martin's death occurred November 8, 1925.

For more than 40 years Mr. Martin was a member of Trinity Methodist church and served on its board of stewards during the greater part of that period. He was a member of the general conference of 1906, held in Birmingham, as well as that of 1918 and others which met in Atlanta. He belonged to the chamber of commerce and his fraternal relations were with the Knights of Pythias and the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. For about 30 years he was a trustee of the Grady hospital and succeeded the late Colonel Robert J. Lowry as president of the hospital board.

CAPONE FREED ON BOND AFTER ARREST IN JOLIET

Joliet, Ill., December 16.—(United News.)—Al Capone, Chicago gang leader, was arrested today when he sought to avoid Chicago police by leaving a Santa Fe train here and continuing to his home in Cicero, Ill., by automobile.

Capone, a lieutenant who traveled with him, and five other gangsters who came to Joliet to meet the train were booked for carrying concealed weapons and released on $2,400 bond each. They left town by automobile, presumably for Chicago.

The dapper Italian's difficulties originated in Los Angeles where he went for a "rest" from his arduous duties of "supplying the lighter pleasures of life" to Chicagoans and dodging assassins' bullets.

The management of a Los Angeles hotel ordered Capone's party to leave and he started back to Chicago.

MRS. MILO H. MASSEY DIES IN CEDARTOWN

Cedartown, Ga., December 16.—Mrs. Milo H. Massey, wife of pastor of First Baptist church, died here today after a sudden heart attack. Funeral services will be conducted at Hartwell Monday.

Mrs. Massey is survived by her husband, one son, Eugene Massey, of Louisville, Ky.; two daughters, Mary Kate Massey, a student at Shorter college, and a small daughter, Carolyn. One sister, Mrs. Conner, of Sylva, Ga., also survives.

Mrs. Massey before her marriage was Miss Rozzie Leigh, of Sylva, Ga.

Pershing Chosen.

Washington, December 16.—(AP)—General John J. Pershing and Theodor W. Noyes, editor of the Washington Star, were elected members of the board of trustees of the National Geographic Society. General Pershing takes the place of the late Henry White and Mr. Noyes that of the late Rudolph Kauffman, who was managing editor of the Star.

Announcement

The winners in The Constitution's International Word-Building Contest will be published in the Sunday edition, December 18, 1927.

ATLANTA BUILDING SETS NEW MARK

Total value of contracts for building and engineering work in Atlanta during November was $4,343,000, the highest for any November in the city's history and exceeding any other month during 1927. These figures were made public Friday by the E. W. Dodge corporation of New York, in its monthly report on construction activities.

A gain of 62 per cent over October was noted in figures for the entire state, the amount given as Georgia's total being $6,342,000.

Atlanta's total was more than double that of October of this year, or November, 1926.

Included in the November building record for Georgia were $2,343,000, or 27 per cent of all construction, for industrial plants; $1,943,300, or 31 per cent, for residential buildings; $969,900, or 15 per cent, for educational projects, and $437,000, or 7 per cent, for commercial buildings.

Atlanta's construction record for November contained the following items of note: $2,083,000, or 48 per cent of all construction, for industrial plants; $1,262,800, or 29 per cent, for residential buildings; $748,400, or 17 per cent, for educational projects, and $221,000, or 5 per cent, for commercial buildings.

New construction started in the state since the first of this year has reached a total of $60,278,300, being a drop of 21 per cent from the total for the corresponding period of last year. During the first 11 months of this year there was $20,710,000 of contracts let on new building and engineering, which was a loss of 5 per cent from the first 11 months of 1926.

PLANE RACES FOR SCHNEIDER CUP TO BE BIENNIAL

London, December 16.—(AP)—The British and Italian governments have decided to support a project for amendment of the Schneider cup rules to make future races biennially instead of annually.

In making this announcement, the air ministry stated that the present interval of one year between races was not enough to allow adequate progress in the technical design of marine aircraft the development of which was the object of the trophy's donor.

The United States, French and German authorities have been informally consulted and are understood to concur in this proposal.

MILLER IS HELD ON MURDER COUNT

Soperton, Ga., December 16.—(AP)—Frank Miller was today held without bail to await action of the Treutlin county grand jury on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of Clayton Newsome here at the home of Mrs. Emma Coates, in the early hours of the morning of November 6. The preliminary hearing was held before Justice of the Peace I. H. Hall.

Miss Willie Mae Jenkins, held as a material witness in the case, was released under $500 bond. Mrs. Coates and her three daughters, Mrs. Ira Mae Allen and Misses Louise and Jonaline Coates, were held without bond as accessories before the fact. The trial of the accused will likely be held at the next regular session of court, which convenes the third Monday in February.

Mrs. Coates, on whose testimony mainly Miller was held, made only a brief statement at the hearing here today.

"Frank Miller shot and killed Clayton Newsome in my home with me and my daughters looking on and begging him not to do so," she said.

JUNIOR CHAMBER DIRECTORS NAMED

In a ballot conducted by mail, closing Friday at noon, eight new directors of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce were elected.

They are J. H. Woody, Joe Ray, John K. Otley, Jr., N. Baxter Maddox, Roy Harwell and C. E. Dieter for terms of two years each; George Suggs and Frank A. Hooper, Jr., for terms of one year each.

The eight new members were elected from a group of 16 candidates who received the highest number of votes in the primary.

The eight new members together with four members whose terms of office have not expired—Preston Wright, Jr., John M. Slaton, Jr., Paul Barcroft and Roy LeCraw, will meet at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday to elect officers of the chamber for the coming year.

BEAUTY DEFINED AS COMBINATION OF CHEMICALS

London, December 16.—(United News.)—Beauty isn't even skin deep—it's all on the surface, according to speakers at the annual meeting of the International Association of Metallurgical Chemists.

They defined modern beauty as a combination of lead oxide, petroleum greases, benna, cellulose products, paper and wood pulp, nitric acid and dyes.

Red oxide of lead on the lips and cheeks contributed to the apparent glow of health, while sienna, lampblack or carbon made her eyelashes and eyebrows so fetching.

NORTH AVE. CHURCH TO GIVE CANTATA, "PRINCE OF PEACE"

The North Avenue Presbyterian church choir at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon will present the cantata, "The Prince of Peace," by T. Frederick II. Cauldin, with text selected by Harold W. Thompson.

This presentation of the "Prince of Peace," under the direction of Joseph Hagan, organist and chorister, will be the first in the city of Atlanta. The quartet of voices composing the North Avenue Presbyterian church choir will be doubled for this occasion. Those who will sing are: Sopranos, Miss Margaret Battle and Miss Helen Battle; contraltos, Mrs. Harold Goodale and Mrs. John Foster; tenors, Edward Kane and Alfred Northman; baritone, Edward Werner and Ray Werner.

BOY BADLY HURT BY AUTO DRIVEN BY YOUNG WOMAN

Robert Brice, 11 years old, of 1088 Fair street, suffered probable concussion of the brain when he was knocked down Friday night on East Fair street by an automobile driven by Miss Betty Chapman, according to police reports.

Miss Chapman, who was accompanied by her father, L. F. Chapman, took the child to Grady hospital and then reported the accident to Captain G. T. Butler at police station.

HIGHWAY PAVING WILL BE SOUGHT

McRae, Ga., December 16.—(Special.)—Pursuant to a call from B. F. Mann, of the Brunswick Board of Trade, and S. H. Brown, chairman of the Brunswick Young Men's club, representatives for eight south Georgia counties met at McRae yesterday at the courthouse to discuss plans and organize for concerted efforts toward the paving of the "Bee-Line" highway, state route No. 27, from Brunswick to Macon. A committee was named to appear before the state highway board December 20 and ask that this work be done.

The counties represented at this meeting were Glynn, Appling, Wayne, Jeff Davis, Telfair, Dodge and Pulaski, and representatives from each county were enthusiastic in supporting any movement that would help secure aid from the federal and state highway departments.

A large delegation was present and the meeting was called to order by W. D. Horton, of B. F. Mann was asked to state the object of the meeting, and a temporary organization was formed by electing B. F. Mann chairman and Fred G. Wade secretary. J. J. Whitfield, commissioner from Pulaski county, responded for his county, and in glowing terms stated that he would support this highway work.

Dudley Smith, of W. L. Jessup and Rev. Driscoll, from Dodge, stated that they would back the highway work heartily, and that their county authorities would do their part without a bond issue. O. F. McRae, for Telfair, stated that Telfair had voted bonds for this work some time ago, and were waiting on the highway department, and that Telfair was building bridges in all parts of the county now with money voted for that purpose, but had not sold the paving bonds, pending action of the highway board in matching Telfair's money for this work.

Robert Harrison, of Jeff Davis, stated that he was now trying to get aid on route 15 from Hazlehurst to Alma, but would back the highway work heartily, and that their county authorities would do their part without a bond issue. O. F. McRae, for Telfair, stated that Telfair had voted bonds for this work some time ago, and were waiting on the highway department, and that Telfair was building bridges in all parts of the county now with money voted for that purpose, but had not sold the paving bonds, pending action of the highway board in matching Telfair's money for this work.

If Alertox Fails In Colds and Flu Call In a Doctor

Here is the greatest medical find of the age, a preparation that, in from 60 to 90 minutes thoroughly cleanses the system of poison bile and acids, thus throwing off the cold through the intestinal tract.

You begin to feel better after the first dose, and it is only a matter of a few hours when that disagreeable nasal discharge is checked; that creepy, chilly feeling gone and your aches and pains disappear.

Under the Alertox treatment colds rarely hang on over 24 hours and often disappear in half that time. Get a bottle from your druggist and if you are not satisfied after taking one dose, get your money back. If your druggist cannot supply Alertox, send direct to Crystal Carbonic Laboratory, Dept. 18, Atlanta, Ga., upon receipt of price, 60¢—(adv.)

Dry Agents Don Freshmen Caps; Get Bootleggers

Tuscaloosa, Ala., December 16.—(AP)—The red caps of University of Alabama freshmen on the heads of federal prohibition agents proved the undoing of Tuscaloosa's liquor dealers. 21 of whom were arrested in a wholesale roundup late last night.

E. E. Kaussen and J. R. Taylor were the agents who temporarily became red capped freshmen. Their rooms became plentifully supplied with evidence purchased from bootleggers who catered to the campus trade and last night S. O. McPherson, federal administrator for the district, swooped down on the city and personally led the raids.

Fines of $100 and costs and sentences of 60 to 100 days in jail were assessed in all cases when the bootleggers were taken before City Recorder W. T. Smith, Jr., in police court today.

Only 19 Players Will Go if Nash and Shiver Stay at Athens.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., December 16.—(AP)—The first all-star football squad ever to leave the south for a grueling battle was concentrating its force here tonight and will depart tomorrow for Los Angeles to meet an all-star team of the Pacific coast in a Christmas game.

From Virginia to Louisiana the athletes came, drawn from the senior classes of the southern conference institutions.

Tomorrow the squad will work out at Denney field, University of Alabama gridiron, before departing.

Coaches Wallace Wenz, of Alabama; Dan McGugin, of Vanderbilt; and Bill Alexander, of Georgia Tech, will send the team through a brief drill, emphasizing formations of the Crimson Tide, Golden Tornado and the Commodores of Nashville.

All of these coaches have long stood for fundamentals in football and the giving of formations should about size up the attack and defense that will be used by the southern team.

There will be Spears, McDowell and Estes in the backfield to kick, pass and do everything in the gridiron "bluebook." As for blocking, Red Brown, of Alabama, has few equals. Middlekauff, of Florida,

Eligibility Row Causes Army Action

Act of West Point Seen as Practical Severance of Athletic Relations.

West Point, N. Y., December 16.—(AP)—The annual football classic of the Army and Navy, most colorful of the seasonal pigskin dramas over a period of 38 years, apparently came to an end today.

The definite break in athletic relations, considered inevitable now by army men, appeared in publication of correspondence between Admiral Louis M. Nulton, superintendent of the naval academy at Annapolis and Major General Edwin B. Winans, head of the military institute, concerning the three-year eligibility rule, adopted by the Middies, but scorned at West Point.

Although a four-year contract for annual football clashes entered into in October, 1926, still has three years to run, Admiral Nulton requested on December 3, that army add to the individual contract for 1928 a clause stipulating that "no contestant shall take part in this game on either team who has had three years experience in intercollegiate football." Refusal to accede to this request would be considered "rejection of the contract and the naval academy will consider itself free to schedule another game on November 24, 1928."

Returned Unsigned. In his reply, published today, Major General Winans, refused the eligibility clause "for reasons fully covered in previous correspondence between the authorities of the two academies," and returned the contract unsigned. He added that it was the army conclusion that "authorities of the United States Naval Academy wish to be released from the (four-year) contract entered into in 1926."

"I wish to assure you," he added, "that under the circumstances, the authorities of the military academy will not oppose your wishes in this respect."

Army objections to the three-year eligibility rule, accepted by the navy, were voiced by General Winans yesterday in a statement which approved recommendations of the West Point advisory council that rules governing eligibility would not be subject to further changes.

General Winans explained then the necessity for all students at the military academy competing in sports on a basis of equality, declared that the eligibility standard already in effect had brought objections from no other colleges, and pointed out that while Army-Navy contests "traditionally form the most important part of West Point schedules the main purpose is development of sports throughout the army."

The statement of the cadet academy head was made today, he said, in response to numerous queries as to "why he had made public a statement regarding the rules governing members of West Point athletic teams yesterday." General Winans explained that "the position of the West Point authorities was clearly defined for the information of the public at this time because it was necessary to take action on the proposal of the superintendent of the naval academy to enter into a contract for the annual service game on November 24, 1928. This contract normally covers only business details of individual games."

"As will be seen," General Winans continued, "the effect of the proposal of the superintendent of the naval academy would be to abrogate the main contract unless the three-year rule is at once agreed to and adopted by the military academy, since the best interests of the military academy are absolutely for the adoption of any such rule, the contract was returned unsigned."

Admiral Nulton's Letter. The text of Admiral Nulton's letter of December 3 to General Winans follows:

"The original and true carbon copies of a contract for the proposed Army-Navy football game in 1928 are forwarded herewith. Attention is invited to paragraph 14, relating to eligibility. In June, 1927, the superintendent of the naval academy adopted the three-year eligibility rule for intercollegiate sports in which the naval academy participates. The superintendent of the military academy was informed of this decision on June 10, 1927. Rejection of the eligibility feature by the United States Military Academy will be considered as rejection of the contract and the naval academy will consider itself free to schedule another game on November 24, 1928."

"Early action on this contract is requested. (Signed.)

"L. N. NULTON, Superintendent of the 'United States Naval Academy.' The rule allowing only three years of varsity play, whether at college before entering the academies or in the service institutions themselves, would bar several famous athletes from West Point teams, Captain Harry Wilson, shining light in Army's 14-to-9 victory this fall, played several years of varsity football at Penn State and his mates in the backfield, Murrell, Navy and Keeser Cagle, all had college experience before entering West Point."

Lost Many Stars. Under the rule adopted voluntarily, Navy lost such stars as Tod Sloan, end, who caught "Whitney" Lloyd's spectacular pass for a touchdown last November, "Bud" Sprague, AP-American tackle and captain-elect of the Army, played college football in Texas before coming to West Point.

In their long series of combats Army has won 15 of the annual football clashes, losing 12 with three games tied. During that time the Cadets pushed 325 points over the Middie goal, while Navy scored 213.

NAVY OFFICIALS REFUSE TO TALK. Annapolis, Md., December 16.—(AP) In the absence of Rear Admiral Louis M. Nulton, superintendent of the Naval academy, navy athletic authorities said tonight that no public statement regarding the reported football break with 'West Point' would be made.

The opinion was expressed that Admiral Nulton would not answer Major General E. B. Winans, superintendent of the Military academy, in connection with severance of football relations between the two schools, until an official communication had been received from West Point authorities.

To date no official word has reached the Naval academy regarding the reported break, many authorities said, and until it does Admiral Nulton would not comment on the matter.

Decatur Wins Two. Decatur high school hung up a double victory Friday night when the boys quintet defeated the College Park boys, 47 to 22, in a well-played game and the Decatur girls took the College Park girl basketball to ride by a score of 28 to 5. The Decatur girls displayed a smooth-running attack.

It's Up to You.

The greatest annual cross-country race of the year has started and it is a dead clinch bet that Santa Claus, the best and oldest harrier in the world, will come in first by several lengths.

BUT there are a lot of Santa Claus supporters who will not be in at the finish unless we buy them a seat in the grandstand.

Sports writers are supposed to be "hard boiled" like Easter eggs and such but we "ain't." We used to wait for Santa Claus just like all the other normal folks who do not try to make public predictions on football games and engage in other foolish pastimes.

Today we took a little trip to a tumble-down shack on the edge of Atlanta and visited one of the staunchest supporters of Santa Claus now living. We left the hustle and bustle of downtown Atlanta a week before Christmas and stopped in an out-of-the-way corner where a little lad is waiting to see the finish of that great Christmas marathon. He may see it and he may not. His ticket must be purchased by us.

The hard part of it is that the little tot is happy in the anticipation of seeing the ending of that race. He is sure that Santa will win and he is equally sure that he will be there at the finish to receive a token from Santa for faithful service.

He is just one of the 50 kiddies who must depend upon the "Ten Opportunities" of The Constitution to get him a grandstand seat at the end of the marathon next Sunday morning when the great finish comes.

He is happy, but now and then a cloud passes his blue eyes. He visions the ending of a race without little Bobby in the grandstand. Tears dim those eyes for a moment then the childish faith of a lad who has learned to smile in the face of adversity wipes away the tears and the smile returns.

He talks of Santa Claus with a faith that would melt the heart and loosen the purse strings of any Midas and as we leave we find a lump in our throat where there should be nothing but the bracing air of a brisk December morning. And we make a vow. If there is anything we can do to assure this lad and the other 49 a place at that great marathon we will do it.

Our part must be small but all Atlanta has a heart and the Ten Opportunities to The Constitution offer a way to show that heart. Every one of those 50 tots expect to see Santa Claus cross the tape in that marathon and the full subscription of the Ten Opportunities will make that possible.

Accept this appeal from a sports scribe in the spirit that it is meant and "give till it hurts."

It Wouldn't Be Christmas.

What would Christmas be without at least one "offer" of a million for the Crackers? Santa Claus would be a false alarm without such an offer and for the matter of that, such an offer would prove Santa Claus is not only a reality but as great a philanthropist as we are led to believe.

Yet the news comes from New York that Uncle Rell Spiller is dicker again. Bless his old soul, we couldn't get along without Uncle Rell's dickerings. They range from peanuts to pitchers and give us something to write about when news is scarce.

my absolutely forbid the adoption of any such rule, the contract was returned unsigned."

Soldiers Meet Local Soccer Eleven Today

Good Game Promised When Two Teams Clash at Spiller's at 2:30.

Spiller's field will be the scene of the soccer match to be played Saturday between the Atlanta Soccer club and the Twenty-second infantry soldiers. These teams represent the best in soccer together with the Lithonia Soccer club, of Lithonia, Ga. The game will get under way at 2:30 o'clock.

While the Soccer club is favored to win the match, the result cannot be foreseen so easily. The soldiers fight every minute of the game and only their inexperience has kept them from victories on several occasions.

In their last match the Soccer club failed to kick a goal from scrimmage, but four tallies resulted from poor defense of the goal posts. Three goals were made by corner kicks, which is decidedly unusual. The soldiers scored a goal from the field, being the only one of its character made during the entire game.

Fans who attend the game will witness a rare exhibition of action and endurance. The forwards and halfbacks are on their toes for the entire duration of the game and if the weather is anyway warm some of them will undoubtedly show the result of the sustained action.

The two teams will line up as follows:

Clain..... Right Halfback Rowe, Barbee H. Hoge..... Left Halfback Vinson, Gunn Ross..... Center..... Tedesco Alexander..... Inside Right..... Lancaster Stark..... Outside Right..... Hayes Jimins..... Inside Left..... Staton Roche..... Outside Left..... Hunter, Turner

Bill Laval Heads S. C. Coaching Staff

Columbia, S. C., December 16.—(AP)—William L. (Billy) Laval, head coach at Furman university for the past several years, was today elected supervisor of coaching at the University of South Carolina, beginning January 1. It was announced by the athletic council chairman, H. N. Edmunds tonight. All members of the present coaching staff were renamed for their positions for another year, the organization to remain same as heretofore except that Laval will have complete charge, it was announced.

Mr. Laval as general supervisor of coaching succeeds to a position resigned a year ago by Branch Bocock. Harry M. Lightsey, who had been chosen assistant football coach, was made head football coach on the retirement of Bocock, but was not in general control of all sports.

Reese, who hails from Los Angeles, was picked up there while playing semi-professional ball. He is 22, and last year batted .295 while playing second base.

Fast Fielding Pair Go to Yanks

Oakland, Calif., December 16.—(AP) Lyn Lary and Jimmy Reese, "the keystone kids" of the Oakland Baseball club of the Pacific Coast league, who have been reported sold "under cover" to the New York Yankees, are looked upon by baseball experts as the fastest double-play combination seen in the Coast league for years. Their execution of the double play has been pronounced flawless, with not a split second's time lost. Lary, who is 21, was picked up by the Oaks in 1925 while playing for the Visalia (Calif.) High school. Last season he batted .293 and clubbed in more runs than any player on the club, with the exception of the Oaks' leading slugger, "Buzz" Arlett. He plays shortstop.

Clark Howell to Give Another Trophy in Next Series.

A banner of gold and white and one of red and black looked down upon the speakers' table at the Athletic club last night as Clark Howell, Sr., publisher of The Constitution, pledged another great trophy for the next three games to be played by the University of Georgia and Georgia Tech.

His announcement came in connection with the presentation of the present Constitution trophy to Captain Ed Crowley of the Tornado. This trophy was put in competition three years ago when Tech and Georgia renewed athletic relations and it is now the permanent property of Tech, that school having won it twice out of three times.

In marble halls where kings are born, not made, they cry "The king is dead, long live the king!" Friday night in the huge gymnasium a thousand Tech students and followers of the Golden and White modernized those words as they bid farewell to Captain Ed Crowley and alternate, Captain Papa Hood, of the 1927 Tornado and greeted Captain Peter Pund and alternate, Raleigh Drennon, for next year.

This thousand could not conceal the feeling of loss as they saw Ed Crowley surrender his command to the hands of Peter Pund but in the same breath they raised their voices in tribute to the big blonde giant and his stocky assistant, who will lead the Tornado in 1928. The selection of these men, when it was made known by Coach Alexander, met with instant and genuine approval not only with the hundreds of other friends the big Augusta boy and Atlanta's own Raleigh Drennon have made in their three years at Tech.

Great Banquet. In many ways that Tech banquet of last night was—and should be—the greatest in the history of the school. Over the whole assembly hung the atmosphere of joy which naturally follows such a victory as the gold and white scored this year in that game against the great Red and Black team from Georgia. There was the promise of future triumphs to add its glamour to the event. There was everything to make the occasion just what it was—a signal success.

Among the other things which went to make the 1927 banquet a success was the presence of Lowry Arnold as toastmaster. Without the wit and humor of Lowry Arnold a Tech banquet would be a dull affair indeed. As a toastmaster Lowry Arnold is

TOUGH BOUT FOR GOODRICH IN NEXT FIGHT

Ted Goodrich, who is rapidly becoming something of a local favorite, will have plenty of opposition on his hands, when he fights in the main event of the weekly boxing show at the Ringside club Tuesday night.

That is he will have a tough time if Wild Bill Morris, his opponent, is as rough and rugged a young pugilist as Matchmaker Jimmy Mayson says and Mayson has the fighters' record to bear out his contention.

Morris was signed to meet Goodrich after Billy Lotz, manager of Larry Avera, failed to show up to sign a contract for his boy to fight. Mayson says that he was sincere in his desire to give Avera a shot at Goodrich, but after all believes that the latter has too much of a weight advantage over Lotz's pug.

Morris' most recent triumph was a knockout victory over Spike Webb, That occurred at Covington, Ky., last week and fans who have seen Webb fight here are of the opinion that Morris had to be a pretty lively scrapper to put Webb away via the knockout.

Morris is particularly popular in Florida, where he has a long list of victories to his credit. Included among them are two decisions over Young Wallace, Ken Burrus, Cole Miller and others. Morris stopped Tut Seymour and fought to a thrilling draw with such an important pugilistic person as Armando Sheckel. Tickets are now on sale at Jack Ribel's billiard parlor, Peachtree and Walton streets.

In accordance with his usual policy Coach Alexander, who was the first speaker of the evening, declined to take any credit for the success of the Tornado. He never takes credit for the success of the Tech, but it is given him nevertheless, and that audience last night let it be known in no uncertain manner that the credit was his.

During the course of his address Coach Alex presented Captain Ed Crowley with a dressing gown given him by a few friends and this presentation brought to a climax the demonstration for Tech's captain. There was no peace until Ed expressed his thanks for the gift. Then bedlam was loose again when the names of Peter Pund and Raleigh Drennon were called off by Coach Alex. Both of these athletes had to speak before order could be restored.

McDowell Presented. Coach Alexander also introduced Jack McDowell, North Carolina State football star, on route to an at a member of the all-senior conference eleven which meets a picked team of that section in a Christmas grid classic.

If there were any present who failed to realize the full importance of Tech's victory over their ancient rivals on December 3, that doubt was dispelled when Clark Howell, Sr., publisher of The Constitution, presented the huge Constitution trophy to Captain Crowley. Mr. Howell described that game as the greatest ever played on any gridiron, and the cheer that greeted his announcement left no doubt that his hearers agreed with his sentiments. He went back to the night of the battle when the whole world was crying for news of the result, when every man, woman and child in Georgia was looking to the papers for the result—when the news came that Tech had won the game and the conference title.

Offers Trophy. In his presentation of the trophy Mr. Howell declared that The Constitution would offer an even greater prize for the next series of three games between Georgia Tech and University of Georgia. The cup which was presented permanently to Tech last night was won twice by them and once by the university in the past three years since the two schools renewed athletic relations.

Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Tech, pointed out in his speech that the past three years between Tech and Georgia have proven that amicable relations between the two schools could be resumed. During and after each game conduct of students of both schools has been above reproach, said Dr. Brittain.

Built Great Stadium. And where other cities have provided stadia for schools situated in those municipalities, the Tech Athletic association has in five years built and financed one of the finest stadia in the country. Dr. Brittain said. He also stated that the Tech-Georgia game, which annually draws the largest southern football crowds, is one of the greatest social events in the south, and that it is a credit to the city of Atlanta.

Major John S. Cohen, editor of the Atlanta Journal, in a glowing speech praised the Tech team highly for the manner in which it had overcome all opposition after starting out with a new offensive strategy, abandoning the old Tech jump shift which had become known throughout the country.

Major Cohen also paid high tribute to Coach Alex, who had brought the boys through and inspired them to work hard, train hard and play hard. Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution, was highly praised by Major Cohen for his leading of The Constitution trophy, which Tech won permanently in its victory over Georgia.

James B. Nevin, editor of the Atlanta Georgian, was also warm in his praise of the Tech team and what it had accomplished this season.

Bullard, Marvin Honored. Dr. J. B. Crenshaw, director of the Georgia Tech Athletic association, in a brief speech presented Ralph Bullard, who graduated this year, with tokens emblematic of the regard with which Tech held their services while on the team.

U. OF GEORGIA, GULF QUINTS MEET TONIGHT

BY BOB SHERROD.
Athens, Ga., December 16.—The University of Georgia basketball team will play its last scheduled game before the holidays on Saturday night when they will meet the Gulf Refining company quintet from Atlanta at Woodruff hall. This will be the second game of the season for the Bulldogs, they having defeated the Southern Bell Telephone Company five last week by a 10-6 score. Although this is the last scheduled game before Christmas, an effort is being made to arrange a couple for next week.

Coach Stegmann's charges have shown marked improvement during the past week over their first game performance. The football players on the squad, namely Lautenschlager, H. Morris, Palmer and Martin, have changed their gridiron tactics and adapted themselves to a basketball style as well as acquiring their shooting.

Have Little to Worry Over. With Roy Drew and Joe Martin at center, the Bulldogs have little to worry about at that angle. Drew is playing the same consistent brand of basketball that he showed last year and seems a bit faster. Both centers range around the 6 feet 3 inch mark.

Captain Babe Florence and George Keen look like the best bets at forward this year. Both have three years' seasoning behind them and seem a well coordinated game. Keen made the all-conference team last year and Florence was on the second team. Other aspirants who look good at this position are Dudley Cook, Henry Palmer, Jimmy Harris, Hollis Morris and Malon Courts.

The guards are left open to new men. Florence and Martin have graduated from the 1927 quintet. Buck Anderson, a sophomore, is showing up well at this position at present and gives promise of development into a real star. Rush Freeman and Glenn Lautenschlager are among the leaders in defensive work. Still others are Buster Benson and Millard Palmer.

GULF QUINT LEAVES TODAY

Gulf Refining company's basketball team left for Athens today, Georgia five in Athens Saturday. The Gulf company won the championship in the City league last year, winning all games and has a strong team this season but they realize that they have a mighty opponent in the Georgia Bulldogs.

Georgia last year lost by one point to Vanderbilt in the final game of the southern conference basketball tournament and still has a powerful offensive in Fred Florence and Keen. These three will make it hard going for any five.

A large number of Gulf supporters are going to Athens for the game, leaving early Saturday afternoon. Twelve players will be carried. Joe Singleton, former captain of the A. A. A. team, is a good instructor to the Gulf and they appear better than last season. The players who will make the trip are Captain Rudy Cook, Henry Palmer, Hollis Morris, Bynum, Perrell, Nichols, Speaks, Medlin, Tasker, King, Brookshire, Strain, Shropshire, Business Manager Everett Millican and maybe Joe Singleton.

Tod Morgan Retains Title On Low Blow

Referee Stops Bout in 14th Round After Chick Fails Champ.

BY FRANK GETTY.
United News Sports Editor.

Madison Square Garden, New York, December 16.—After as flagrant an exhibition of foul fighting as has been permitted in a New York ring in many a month, Joe Glick, of Brooklyn, was quite properly disqualified Friday night and Tod Morgan, of Seattle, retained the junior lightweight championship of the world.

It was not until the fourteenth round of the championship bout that Eddie Forbes, the referee, found occasion to throw Glick out of the ring, although at least half a dozen times previously he had struck the Pacific coast boy low.

Morgan was outclassed by the rugged Brooklyn Hebrew, and if Glick had only fought fairly, he would have won the 130-pound championship without dissenting voice.

Glick dropped Morgan once in the second round and twice in the fifth, and on each occasion the game little champion, while giving every evidence of having been severely fouled by low body blows, got up and fought back.

Outside of the low blows, hitting on the break and butting with his head, Glick was clearly the better man of the two.

Morgan is about through as a champion, and Glick may succeed him, for Joe certainly is a better fighter than Tod. But it will never be by the route which he tried to take tonight.

Glick jumped into the lead in the first three rounds and was ahead by a wide margin, despite his foul tactics, at the end of the tenth.

In the fourteenth, he was outfighting Morgan when he suddenly drove a low left hook to Tod's groin. The champion went down in distress, but the referee made no attempt to continue the count.

Glick had struck a low blow too many.

Without hesitation, Eddie Forbes waved Glick to his corner. The championship remained with Morgan.

"I'm sorry it had to end this way," Tod said after the bout. "But I don't know what the referee could have called those first blows which dropped me in the early rounds. These were just as foul as the one which finally ended things."

Glick protested that he had not struck low.

"I'll never pull on a glove again if that blow was low," he said.

Cooperation Assured, Work Is Started on Drawings For New 70-Foot Highway

Georgia Senators Will Be Asked to Get Right-of-Way Through Federal-Owned Fort McPherson.

Cooperation of federal, state, county and city governments in establishment of a 70-foot boulevard from the heart of the Atlanta business district through East Point and College Park to the Campbell county line was assured Friday when Nym Hurst, county engineer, began preparation of blue prints of the projected improvement.

The drawings are being made in collaboration with William A. Hunsell, chief of construction of the City of Atlanta, and will be furnished to Senators Walter F. George and William J. Harris and Congressman Leslie J. Steele, of Georgia, who will seek to obtain a right-of-way through federal owned property at Fort McPherson.

Whitehall and Lee streets in Atlanta have been selected as the thoroughfares to be utilized, and construction of an underpass at the railroad crossing on Whitehall street will be part of the improvement.

MISTRIAL RESULTS IN HOOKS CASE

Americus, Ga., December 16.—(Special.)—After standing 10 for acquittal and 2 for conviction, practically unchanged through 36 hours of deliberation, the jury in the case of Bobby Hooks, on trial here before Judge Frank C. McLaughlin in superior court for criminal assault, was discharged this morning and a mistrial entered.

One of the jurors said that one ballot showed 9 for acquittal and 3 for conviction, but that practically all other ballots were 10 for 2 for acquittal.

Young Hooks, visibly fatigued by the strain of five days' trial, was not moved by the mistrial order. He left the courtroom in company of members of his family immediately after Judge McLaughlin had continued the $10,000 bond under which he is at liberty.

The case is expected to be called again during the May term.

The cost of the trial, exclusive of the Hooks' expense in counsel fees, was estimated at $1,000 tonight.

DEALER FOUND GUILTY AT CIGAR TAX TRIAL

James White, an Atlanta dealer in cigars, was convicted Friday in the Fulton superior court on a charge of selling cigars without purchasing state tax stamps for them and was fined $125 by Judge Jesse Wood.

A suspended sentence of twelve months also was imposed.

The evidence against White was obtained by G. A. Johnson, deputy revenue commissioner, who works under the direction of John M. Vandiver, state revenue commissioner.

25 DEGREES TODAY IS COLD FORECAST

Saturday will probably be colder than Friday, according to official statistics, but at the same time it may not feel so cold. The thermometer will probably read at about 25 degrees this morning.

The promise made late Friday afternoon by C. F. von Herrmann, official meteorologist of the United States weather bureau.

Dropping winds are expected to temper the temperature for Atlanta today, despite the predicted lowering of the mercury.

Clear skies, with no rain in prospect for a couple of days at least, is another cheering feature.

Friday's thermometer readings showed the maximum of 49 degrees reached at about 7 a. m. This was the top of the rise after a cold at 46 degrees at 8 o'clock. The cold intensified steadily from then on through the day, setting as low as 34 degrees in the late afternoon before the sun set.

The cold wave is expected to reach a peak of about 25 degrees early Saturday morning, so the wise householder will probably be the one who properly dressed for the weather.

The cold won't stay with us more than 24 or 36 hours, Mr. von Herrmann predicts, and in so far as he could see Friday, fine and warmer, with continued clear skies, is the optimistic outlook for Sunday.

RULES GOVERNING SCHOOL TICKETS ON CARS AMENDED

A revision in rules for the use of new five-cent school children's street car tickets for children attending schools in which double sessions are held was announced Friday by the Georgia Power company.

The original rule was that the tickets would be accepted from school children only between 7 o'clock in the morning and 4 o'clock in the afternoon on school days. Attention of officials of the company was called to the fact that schools holding double sessions do not close until after 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and this resulted in instructions to trainmen to accept the school tickets from children at these schools until 4:45 o'clock. The tickets will be accepted only when presented to the vicinity of these schools, and in all other parts of the city school tickets will not be good after 4 o'clock.

Three white schools, the Joe Brown Junior high school, Faith Street Junior high school, and the Atlanta Normal Training school, and some 12 colored schools are affected by the amended ruling.

$2,000,000 ASKED TO DEVELOP POWER AT MUSCLE SHOALS
Washington, December 16.—(AP)—Expenditures of $2,000,000 to improve dam No. 2 and the steam plant at nitrate plant No. 2 at Muscle Shoals, Ala., was asked in a bill introduced today by Representative La Guardia, republican, New York.

The measure would put the plant under the direction of the secretary of war with authority to sell power generated to neighboring states, cities and persons on ten-year contracts. The profit made would be returned to a fund for carrying on experiments and manufacturing cheaper nitrates for fertilizer.

Transfer of Muscle Shoals to a corporation composed of the secretary of agriculture, commerce and war for a ten-year period was proposed in a bill introduced today by Representative Lowrey, democrat, Mississippi.

WOMEN HEED MALE ADVICE; STAY AWAY FROM EXECUTION
Springfield, Ill., December 16.—(United Press.)—Two women who had declared their intention of witnessing the hanging of Jim Hayes today heeded male advice and stayed away from the execution.

Miss Nina Rogers, a nurse who attended Dolley Platt, whom Hayes killed, altered her plans because "my father would have disowned me if I attended." Mrs. Dorothy Tidell, policewoman, remained away on advice of the chief of police.

Both women said they wanted to see Hayes suffer because they had been connected with the case.

Date Is Set for Attempt To Fly to Planet Venus

Miami Beach, Fla., December 16.—(AP)—Notice of his intention to essay a journey to the planet Venus in a mysterious machine with which he said he had been experimenting for 18 years was made public here today by Robert Condit, of Condit, Ohio, who described himself as an engineer and chemist.

He withheld all details of the contraption, but said he would rely for power on "polarized units" which he estimated would propel him at a speed of 3,600 miles a minute beyond the earth's atmosphere.

Condit was set tentatively for January 24 as the start of the 50-million-mile voyage. Condit has been here less than a month, spending most of his time at a large frame structure on the beach, surrounded by a high board fence, which he said houses the "machine" of his own invention.

"The motive power for the machine to be used in this experiment through the atmosphere will be from an explosive derived from peroxide of sodium, used as a direct propeller," Condit declared. After proceeding through the earth's atmosphere, estimated at between 35 and 40 miles, "my motive power will be a network of nits capable of being polarized with the attraction of other planets and orbits of meteor streams other than the earth."

"Beyond the earth's atmosphere, the maximum speed will be about 3,600 miles per minute," he added.

Condit declined to comment further upon his arrangements. He declared that he had been experimenting with the idea of a flight to Venus for 18 years, and that at present eight or ten groups in Germany are contemplating a similar venture with a machine of like construction.

The comparatively small 350-square foot area of the hangar, on property fronting the beach, indicated that the machine was in all probability not any giant airplane, but rather a small, light aircraft.

The reported progress of work among other groups indicated that other machines will attempt the Venus flight within the next two years.

"The best starting location, however, is the western hemisphere. Several experiments have been conducted in the eastern part of the Sahara desert, though."

Condit gave assurance that he had substantial financial backing.

"Great Five Cruises" Begin as Belgenland Sails From New York
The first of the Great Five cruises in which the American Express company participates and which will take the traveling-loving American to the four corners of the earth during the next five months started last Tuesday midnight when the palatial Red Star liner "Belgenland" sailed from New York with 350 tourists for a voyage around the world.

The "Belgenland" will return to New York on April 26, next year, according to George A. Kubler, local resident manager, American Express company, 11 Luckie street, N. W.

The pier at the foot of West 20th street was crowded with relatives and friends of the tourists who had come from distant points to bid "bon voyage" to the globe-trotters, many of whom spent the day visiting the shops for last-minute purchases, seeing the sights of the city, or taking in Broadway's musical shows.

Among the passengers listed are Warren F. McGrath, of Los Angeles, and Captain Adrian Seider, of San Francisco, who a few years ago was one of the best known sea captains of the International Mercantile Marine. From Cramerton, N. C., are Mr. and Mrs. Stuart W. Cramer, while Hon. Charles H. Yeater, of Seale, Ala., is another world tourist.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Harmon, of Kernersville, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Pruitt, of Lakeland, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Clark, of Miami, Fla.; Misses Sarah and Jeanette Farmer, of LaGrange, Ga.; Miss W. A. Bisbee, of Jacksonville, Fla.; and T. J. McKeen, of Atlanta, are members of this cruise party.

As in the case of every ocean steamship, the feminine contingent is in the majority aboard the "Belgenland," about 60 per cent of the names of the passenger list begin with either "Miss" or "Mrs."

An additional 100 passengers will be a network of nits capable of being polarized with the attraction of other planets and orbits of meteor streams other than the earth.

"Beyond the earth's atmosphere, the maximum speed will be about 3,600 miles per minute," he added.

"The best starting location, however, is the western hemisphere. Several experiments have been conducted in the eastern part of the Sahara desert, though."

Attended Unveiling.
Mrs. Felton, 92 years old, went to Washington for the unveiling of the Alexander H. Stephens statue in the hall of fame and visited the sessions of the new congress. She left there last Saturday and attributes the neuralgia attack to the blizzard which had turned the capital extremely cold. She believes she caught cold while changing from an automobile to the train in Washington early Saturday morning.

Friday morning Mrs. Felton went alone to her doctor's office, after the neuralgia pain had troubled her all week. Dr. E. C. Davis, her physician, examined her and declared her condition excellent and the neuralgia strictly local in its effects. Dr. Davis advised her that she could go to her home in Cartersville at any time but suggested that the present cold weather might aggravate the pain. Mrs. Felton, therefore, decided to remain in Atlanta overnight and will decide whether to go to Cartersville this morning after she sees the weather conditions.

Reports that Mrs. Felton was seriously ill became current when she failed to attend a luncheon arranged in her honor by the Rebecca Felton chapter of the U. D. C. It developed, however, that this was due to the failure of a clerk to deliver a message, in which she asked her guests to meet her at a downtown office, where she had gone alone on business.

T. LAWSON MADDIX IS BURIED IN REDAN
Funeral services for T. Lawson Maddox, an employee of the Franklin Motor company, who was fatally stabbed in a friendly scuffle with a fellow employee Tuesday afternoon, were held Friday afternoon from the Moreland Avenue Baptist church. The Rev. T. T. Davis and the Rev. W. H. Barrett officiated and interment was in Redan, Ga., cemetery.

Vans Win in Court.
Cleveland, Ohio, December 16.—(AP)—The Nickel Plate railroad and the Van Sweringen were victorious in the appellate court today in their legal battle to condemn seven properties in the Cuyahoga flats, needed for development of the Union terminal project here.

MRS. R. L. FELTON IN USUAL HEALTH

Mrs. Rebecca Latimer Felton, first and only United States woman senator, Friday night denied reports that she was ill and declared that, except for a painful attack of neuralgia over her left eye, she was in her usual excellent physical condition.

"I can't say I'm perfectly well," said Mrs. Felton, at the home of her niece, Mrs. N. McLendon Henderson, of Washington street, where she is staying, "because this pain over my eye is quite unpleasant. But apart from that I am quite well and there is absolutely nothing serious the matter with me."

OFFICERS SEARCH FOR KIDNAPERS OF 12-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Los Angeles, December 16.—(AP)—Spirited away from the playgrounds of the Mount Vernon Junior High school here, Marion Parker, 12, daughter of Perry M. Parker, bank official, and her three alleged kidnapers were the objective of a widespread search by hundreds of officers in southern California today.

Detectives, possessing a photograph of a suspect, were hot on the trail of their only clew tonight. If the photograph of the man could be identified by those who saw the asserted kidnaping, police said his arrest would follow immediately. The girl was induced to leave by a man who represented that her father had been injured, school officials said.

Mr. and Mrs. Spalding Celebrate Golden Wedding This Afternoon

"The fifty golden years you've lived
With true hearts in attune
Have brought you to this golden day—
Your golden honeymoon;
May every moment of it hold True happiness and joys untold."

Enveloped in the glamour and romance of fifty years of wedded bliss, as a background, Mr. and Mrs. Jack J. Spalding will receive congratulations Saturday from 5 to 7 o'clock, at a reception given at the Atlanta Biltmore, upon the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary. Several hundred Atlantans will pay tribute to these distinguished pioneer Atlantans who for over 40 years have been prominently identified with the social, civic, religious and philanthropic life of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Spalding were married in Morgansfield, Union county, Kentucky, December 17, 1877. Mrs. Spalding having been Miss Betty Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hughes, of that city. Mr. Spalding is one of the leading attorneys in the south, and Mrs. Spalding presides with queenly dignity over "Deerland," their Peachtree road home, builded on historic ground connected with the Civil War. On the spot where the Spalding home now stands, was located the battery of the late Captain Evan P. Howell, in the great battle of Peachtree creek, this battery being stationed at the right of the Confederate line overlooking the battlefield.

The reception will be given in a marvelous setting of Christmas greens, laurels and pine, red berries, wreaths tied with red ribbon bows, and poinsettia blossoms starring the foliage. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Spalding on this auspicious and important occasion will be their sons and daughters, including Mr. and Mrs. Hughes Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spalding, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Shroder, and their sister, Mrs. Milton Young, of Lexington, Ky., formerly Miss Lucy Spalding, who was a bridesmaid at their wedding. Misses Betty Shroder, Eleanor Spalding and Boline Spalding, a trio of charming members of the junior set of society, and granddaughters of the hosts, will serve punch.

Misses Smith Honor Trio of Friends.

Miss Marion Smith and Miss Lucia Smith were joint hostesses at a beautiful informal tea Friday evening, December 16, for the celebration of three of their closest friends who will spend the Christmas holidays out of the city. Misses Barbara Ransome, Deas Smith and Frances Weinman. The hostesses were assisted in entertaining by their mother, Mrs. Marion Smith. The guests included 50 members of the young school girl set.

Mrs. A. S. Weil Is Honored at Bridge.

Mrs. Albert Dunson and Mrs. Sallie Rander entertained Friday morning at a bridge-luncheon in honor of Mrs. Dunson's daughter, Mrs. A. S. Weil, of Tampa, Fla., who is in Atlanta for the holidays.

Mrs. Inman Honors Miss Margaret Garwood.

Mrs. Samuel M. Inman entertained on Friday morning at a buffet luncheon at her home on Peachtree street in compliment to Miss Margaret Garwood, a popular bride-elect, whose marriage to Samuel M. Inman, grandnephew of the hostess, will be an important event of December 27. Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Inman's granddaughters, Mesdames Hugh T. Inman and Eugene McNeal.

Miss Nell Harris Is Named Sponsor.

Miss Nell Harris, popular member of the younger set has been selected as sponsor for the Gamma chapter of Alpha Pi fraternity of Tech High school. Miss Harris is a member of the senior class of Washington seminary. She was captain of the basketball team last year and was one of the star players. Miss Harris is the secretary and treasurer of the Sigma Delta sorority.

Atlanta Hadassah Will Collect Funds To Serve Lunches

The Atlanta Hadassah will collect funds Sunday, December 18, for the penny luncheon fund, with Mrs. J. L. Saul in charge of the drive. This date was chosen as the official opening of the drive because the holiday of Chanukah or the Feast of Lights begins on that date. This feast is so thoroughly bound up with the children and their interests that it has become a particularly appropriate time to ask for money to serve lunches in the Palestine schools where many of the children are seriously undernourished.

A very large percentage of the pupils receiving these meals pay part of the cost, which is 10 cents for each meal. Many, however, only give 2 or 3 cents for it, so that the rest of the cost must be raised here.

Oakland City O. E. S. To Give Oyster Supper.

Oakland City chapter, O. E. S., No. 260, will sponsor an oyster supper this evening at Dill avenue and Sylvan road.

Fifty-Fifty Club Holds Christmas Meet.

The Fifty-Fifty club held a special Christmas meeting on Thursday, December 15, at 1870 Gordon street, S. W., with the following hostesses: Mesdames W. T. Mooney, Sidney Smith and R. H. Lee. The next meeting will be held January 5 at 850 Gordon street, S. W., at which time papers will be read on four books considered the "best sellers" for 1926.

"When You and I Were Young"

The above charming old-fashioned photograph presents Mr. and Mrs. Jack J. Spalding at the tender ages of 21 and 18, respectively, and was taken at the time of their marriage 50 years ago in Morgansfield, Union county, Kentucky. This distinguished and aristocratic couple have resided in Atlanta over 40 years, and celebrate their golden wedding anniversary this afternoon at the Biltmore.

Service Star Legion Will Purchase Marker.

Atlanta chapter, Service Star Legion, met Tuesday afternoon at the Atlanta Woman's club, and motion was made and carried for the chapter to buy a marker for the first honor tree planted at Wren's Nest in honor of Mrs. Sam D. Jones, life president of Atlanta Chapter, Service Star Legion; founder and honorary president of the state division, and regional director of the National Service Star Legion, who presided at the meeting.

Mrs. J. L. Tye, chairman for the Christmas boxes, stated some were being packed for the boys at hospital 48 and would be presented Christmas morning; Mrs. William May, relief chairman, reported that many needy families had been assisted, clothing provided, shoes and stockings furnished for the children; Mrs. Charles Anderson reported there were only two boys left at Cragmont sanitarium, hospital for incurables, which is situated in the Black mountains near Asheville, N. C., and completely isolated. The Atlanta chapter has been working for the hospital for years and one of its gifts was a $200 radio; Mrs. W. P. Melton reported that the As You Like It club, of Emory university, sent two cartons of cigarettes to hospital 48.

Atlanta Chapter D. A. R. Indorses Mrs. Bun Wylie

The Atlanta chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Thursday, December 15, at Craigie House with Mrs. John William Smith, regent, presiding. A motion was unanimously carried indorsing Mrs. Bun Wylie as state second vice regent. Many members spoke in appreciation of Mrs. Wylie's splendid ability to fill this office who in turn thanked the members.

Mrs. Smith opened the meeting and introduced Colonel Knight and Colonel Francis who asked the members to influence their fathers, husbands and brothers to join the Sons of the American Revolution.

Reports were heard from Mrs. Fritz R. Jones, recording secretary; Mrs. A. R. McMillan, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Thomas Cobb Whitner, registrar, who reported five new members; Mrs. Bun Wylie, librarian and Mrs. J. M. High, chairman on the board of management, who told of a luncheon to be given by the chapter in February honoring George Washington. Mrs. High also told of her trip to Washington where the statue of Alexander H. Stevens was unveiled in the hall of fame.

Mrs. Smith called attention to new shield, "Stars in Our Flag," presented to the chapter by Mrs. High. Mrs. Jones read a letter of appreciation from the director of the Red Cross at hospital No. 48.

Miss Willie Fort Williams was named to the Walhalla chapter. Walhalla, S. C., who asked the chapter to remember the D. A. R. school for mountain girls at Tamassee, S. C.

The Woman in the Case

BY LOUIS TRACY

SYNOPSIS.

John Arden, returning to his rooms at the Park Palace Hotel, London, in the early hours of the morning, breaks his key in the lock and is given a lesson in a hair-dressing by the night watchman, who accuses him that the room is not his. He is about to return when two women enter the apartment. One is addressed as Emma and the other as Mrs. Sinclair. Arden, hiding, hears them speak of the sudden death of Lord Farndale. Without being observed he lets himself out of the apartment. The next morning he reads of a mysterious death of a peer. A little later he sees Emma on the street and is not far from her when she is knocked down by a motorcar. He dresses in a hurry and he offers her his raincoat. She accepts it and he offers to get her a taxi, telling her that they live in the same hotel. Later Arden learns that the police know the identity of the two women who visited Lord Farndale, but cannot locate them. They watch the railway terminals. Arden sees Emma at one of the stations and behind Mrs. Sinclair's back takes her away with him to avoid arrest. Mrs. Sinclair, in fear of being detained as a material witness, was about to give him a lesson in a hair-dressing. Arden takes her to the room of his friend, Andy Burke, who turns the apartment and his housekeeper over to her. Burke is invited to share Jimmie Davidson's rooms for the night. Before leaving Andy's apartment the three friends and Detective Ferguson of Scotland Yard, who has joined them, hold a conference in Emma's behalf.

On leaving Ferguson suggests to Arden that he call on Mrs. Sinclair, who is back at the Park Palace Hotel, before going to bed. He does so, and gains little information except a glimpse of Lord Farndale's death the old butler, Buchanan, is the first witness.

INSTALLMENT XXIV. AN UNEXPECTED ANSWER.

Here was a witness who could probably supply most intimate and accurate details of the dead man's domestic career, details which it was certainly not advisable to enter into at this stage, seeing that the legal representative of some nebulous descendants hailing from distant Buenos Aires was present in court and would be only too glad to ascertain how far old Buchanan's recollections might go in support of his own clients' contention. Assuredly it was not a coroner's business to help any of the parties in the legal complications now threatening in regard to the Farndale fortune, which at least one morning newspaper had estimated at not less than 3,000,000 sterling.

So Mr. Ingham nodded sapiently, as though some doubtful point had been cleared up completely.

"I see," he said. "Your evidence, Mr. Buchanan, should be of great value to the jury before the inquiry. Meanwhile, for today, we must confine ourselves to the manner and seeming cause of Lord Farndale's death. Who, in your opinion, was the last person to see him alive?"

"I would not be surprised, sir, if I were told that I was," came the totally unexpected answer.

"You? Why do you say that?"

"Because of the queer conditions, sir."

Up sprang Mr. Frankland.

"May I ask, sir," he said, impressively, "that the witness' exact words be placed on record?"

"That is being done," snapped the coroner. "I must permit you to interfere until permission is given for questions to be put."

Mr. Frankland bowed, smiled, and sat down. He had scored his point, he thought. Ferguson smiled, too, and nodded at the lawyer as though to congratulate him. Mr. Lewis, for the time being, passed a bit of time for the jury, passed a bit of time for the jury, passed a bit of time for the jury.

It read: "For the love of God, what are you grinning at?" The detective wrote on the same sheet of paper: "Your legal friend has quite efficiently thrown suspicion on his client, Mrs. Sinclair. She will be pleased when she reads the afternoon's newspapers." The treasury man chuckled in his turn. He folded the slip and put it in his pocket for the amusement of the coroner later when they lunched together in the St. Stephen's club. Indeed, seldom in any court of law in Great Britain can there have been more unanimous agreement among all opposing parties as to the ultimate outcome of a knotty point left apparently quite undecided.

The old butler was wholly undisturbed by the legal dispute. He carried on in an unaffected way that was the complete credence of every one present.

"I think, sir," he said, "that I had better begin at 10 o'clock on the night before last. At that hour his lordship sent for me and said that two ladies would call in a few minutes and they were to be admitted without question. They would probably pay him a long visit, as they had some very important business to discuss, so none of the staff was to remain up; the ladies would let themselves out. Now, sir, here was my first difficulty. Dr. Ingham-Jones told me, I have no doubt, that he was not altogether satisfied as to Lord Farndale's diet. His lordship positively refused to have a nurse, so responsibility was divided. I may put it, between the valet, the housekeeper and myself. Not a word was said to the French chef, M. Pluton, who would have given notice in a second if he heard that his cooking was under suspicion. The valet,

"I didn't think for a moment he was dead, sir," persisted the witness. "I had been sitting there a good five minutes before I realized that he was lying strangely still."

"But you know now that his lordship was actually dead then?"

"I suppose so, sir. It certainly looks like it."
